

Activities Ticket Up to Students

Suggestions and Criticisms Urged By Committee

by Bob Donaldson

The Student Council would like your suggestions concerning a plan for a Student Activities Season Ticket. A sub-committee has spent many hours talking with the various departments concerned and considering the many problems involved. We recognize that this proposal is not perfect but feel that, after two years of discussion and revision, it is the BEST possible solution toward accomplishing the following goals:

- 1) Large increase in attendance at University affairs.
- 2) Tremendous increase in school spirit.
- 3) Large saving to the individual student which is only possible under an all-University plan in which all students would need to participate.
- 4) Improved school affairs and additional support for the Scribe, Yearbook, and all organizations planning to expand their future activities.

You, the voters, can directly benefit yourself and the students who follow you into our University by analysing the program carefully, weighing evidence both pro and con, and then forming a conclusion which seems fair and equitable to you. BUT, after the decision has been made it is imperative that you vote your feelings because it is amazing to note, that in spite of beliefs to the contrary, your vote "counts" and counts more than you think.

Six Page Scribe Due To Printing Trouble

For the first time since the fall semester the SCRIBE has found it necessary to reduce to six pages. This move was made because of an unexpected change in printers brought about by the refusal of the present printer to do the preliminary work necessary to the printing of the campus weekly. The regular eight page SCRIBE will appear next week on May 2.

Scribe to Hold Annual Dinner on May 9th. Staff to Honor Citation Award Winners

The Scribe Board of Editors met this week to select the Scribe Citation winners for 1949-50, Lee Broadwin, editor of the Scribe, announced yesterday. The winners will be honored at the third annual Publications Banquet, to be held May 9, at the Hitching Post Inn.

The citations were established in 1948 to honor those students who participated outstandingly in extra-curricular activities while at the University. Totally different from any other award given at the University, the students who receive the citations are selected by the Scribe Board of Editors — a group of about a dozen students who follow the various student activities throughout the year.

The awards are given for excellence in athletics, for outstanding participation in civic affairs, for successful promotion of social activities, scholastic or civic achievement off the campus, and for ex-

COUNCIL ANSWERS SIX QUESTIONS ON THE S. A. S. T.

1. How much entitlement time will the proposed ticket cost a veteran?

None, unless the total charges exceed $500. If the total charges exceed $500 only 6 days will be deducted.

2. Will a special or part time student be permitted to take advantage of the ticket?

No, this decision is in keeping with other university regulations affecting part time students.

3. How can the increase in student attendance at social affairs be absorbed?

The Social Activities Office believes this problem can easily

The following questions concerning the proposed Student Activities Ticket were chosen by the Scribe as the most representative student queries to the plan, and presented to the Student Council for clarification. The answers which are printed here cover the major objections which have been brought up by various student groups and James Gaffney, Council President, wishes to state that any further inquiries by interested students and student groups will be appreciated and welcome.

be solved:

First—From 1500 to 1700 can attend a dance at the Ritz comfortably (when tables are not used), or as many more as desired up to the maximum capacity of 2,500, the limit prescribed by the Fire Commissioner.

Second—There is a good possibility that the Christmas Ball could be held on two successive nights—using tables, the same orchestra, same decorations and so forth. This could also be done for the Wisteria Ball.

Third—The Armory can be used and transformed into a very presentable "dance atmosphere" if a great deal of emphasis is placed on decorations. The Social Activities Committee has reminded us that plans for decorating the Armory for this year's Wisteria Ball are completed and they are very satisfied with them.

4. Why can't this plan be optional?

The ticket is simply a business arrangement. The various department involved cannot possibly offer students this low rate unless they are guaranteed a certain volume of participation. Since school spirit and increased attendance are our main goals an optional plan would defeat these purposes.

Student Union Building Drive Ends Short of Goal

The first Student Union Building Fund Drive which has netted $3,100 to date will officially close this Sunday, according to Harvey Seltzer, chairman of the Drive.

The Student Union Building Committee, which put all of its effort into sending out pledges, making speeches, showing a special motion picture, and even personally contacting the students during the weeks of the Drive, reports that the responses are very gratifying and a big step towards a Student Union Building next year. Harvey, as one of the mainstays of the Drive since its planning stages, said that he sincerely thanks every person in the University who contributed to the

Nomination Blank Due on or Before Midnight April 29

Candidates for fifteen Student Council offices will compete in the elections scheduled for the first week of May. Nomination blanks for aspiring candidates are now available. All blanks must be signed by 25 students from members of the candidates class and returned to election headquarters on or before 12:00 P.M., April 29.

Each student may sign as many petitions as there are representatives on the Student Council from his class. The election committee will carefully check the signatures on all petitions to see that this regulation has been observed.

Candidates must abide by the campaign regulations set up by the election committee. No candidate may deface, remove, or destroy another candidate's campaign materials. Posters and campaign material shall be largely confined to the Snack Bars on either campus. Candidates must not use tacks or staples to place materials around in the hallways of the various academic and administrative buildings.

Candidates for council election next week consist of six representatives from the present junior class to serve as Senior Student Council members during the coming year; five representatives from the present sophomore class to serve as Junior Student Council members during the coming year; and four representatives from the present freshman class to serve as Sophomore Student Council members during the coming year.

While the Council is actually composed of eighteen representatives, the three remaining seats are open to next year's freshman class and will be filled sometime in December. In the event that vacancies should occur they will be filled by the highest ranking unsuccessful candidate for that office.

Student Activities Ticket

We have all been hearing about the student activities ticket plan, you must be sure you know all the facts about it. The students know exactly what it is and what benefits it has in store for each and every student at the University.

Elections will be held early next month for the ticket plan. Before you vote for or against the student activities ticket plan you must be sure you know all the facts about it. The most obvious advantage is that it is much simpler and convenient to pay for all of your activities at the beginning of each semester. This relieves you of much time spent at financial worrying during the semester. All you have to do is show your card at the door. There are no tickets to buy and no wondering where the money is going to come from. When you buy your ticket for six dollars at the beginning of each semester, it is your assurance of having a good time during the semester and doing it for less money.

When we say less money we mean a substantial saving for all. By paying the small sum of $6.00 each semester you will receive $30.10 worth of entertainment, sports and publications during the year. The activities that you attend now will total more in price, if paid for individually, than if they were paid for under the student activities plan. This saving alone proves the worth of such a ticket.

Veterans need not worry about the ticket as Uncle Sam will include it among his tuition allotment for each student. The most important thing to think about is exactly what your vote will mean when all the ballots are counted. The student activities ticket plan is practiced at many colleges and universities throughout the country but has never been used here. The plan was voted upon by the students at the University last semester. A majority of the students wanted the ticket plan but a large number were not in favor of it and the student council decided not to put it into operation. If put into effect the purchase of the student activities ticket would be compulsory for each student, except part time and special students. This is necessary in order that the revenues obtained from the sale of the ticket will be uniform, that proper planning of events may take place, and the proposed savings will become a reality.

A substantial monetary saving, bigger and better social and other affairs, convenience, more school spirit, and many other advantages too numerous to mention will be yours if the student activities ticket plan is voted for by a substantial majority of the students. Think it over carefully and whether you decide for or against the plan — please vote. L.B.

Letters and People

People are crazy! It takes all kinds to make a world! How true, how true, and one of the best ways we know of finding out just what kinds of people it really takes is to read letters addressed to the editor. We say this without any fear of contradiction.

There are all kinds of letters, each one representing some unknown personality hovering in the background. These shadowy beings emerge on paper as ogres, angels, beasts and what-nots. Some twist the language beyond any recognizable form. Some clutch at our heartstrings. Some are just plain nasty. Other letters are couched in careful terms of praise, but, alas, these are too few.

The letter writers seem to tend to flowery language. Indeed, we received several poems commenting on mercy killing. Most of them we could understand and chuckle over appreciatively, but one was past any comprehension. With a premonition of proximity to greatness, we hurriedly dispatched the "thing" to the English department. No word has been received.

But of all the letters we have received, the one we cherished most is one that after discussing at length and with some erudition a ticklish subject, ended with an abrupt "Go to hell!"

We're going. —DAILY KANSAN, University of Kansas

ROVING REPORTER

by Sid Sobel

The Roving Reporter welcomes questions from his readers which can be used as the question of the week. Kindly send all correspondence to the Roving Reporter, care of the SCRIBE.

Question: What do you think of the proposed student activities plan?

Bernard Walker, liberal arts freshman: I'm all for the proposed student activities plan. By paying a lump sum at one time, you wouldn't have to worry about finances before each individual event. Even if a student only attends a few of the events listed on the proposed ticket, he will still save money. The attendance at University functions listed on the ticket would improve greatly and therefore school spirit would be heightened. If the proper publicity and information is given to the students about the ticket I'm sure the students will vote it in this year.

Evelyn Polke, liberal arts freshman: I think the proposed student activities plan is an excellent idea. It will certainly boost attendance at University functions which has been one of our sore spots. Since I am a girl and escorted to most places by a date who bears the financial burden, it might be felt that I would be opposed to the ticket; but I still think the ticket is worthwhile since it lists so many events. Possibly, if the ticket were cut to eight dollars a year, more students would be

Tom Kevlin, business administration senior: I think the student activities ticket will be accepted by the students. I'm a senior and won't be here next semester, but if I were, I would certainly back the ticket. The proposed plan will be a terrific saving to both fellows and girls. However, I don't think the ticket should be compulsory for both semesters. Some students might only want it for one semester. Last year's ticket didn't have enough publicity. Give the details of the ticket to the student and he will do the rest.

Bea DuPont, liberal arts sophomore: I'm all in favor of the proposed plan. Some girls might not think it's worthwhile, because they don't pay the bills. However, girls like myself who date other than University students will find it a terrific boon. If the plan is presented correctly to the students I think it will be unanimously accepted. The proposal would surely help to bolster our school spirit to a new high.

Happenings Across the Nation

by Benjamin Raubvogel

ED. NOTE: This is the second of three articles on Segregation in Southern Colleges.

In one of the education cases now before the supreme court, G. W. McLaurin, a Negro professor seeking a doctor's degree in education, asserts that he was not allowed to attend classes with white students at the University of Oklahoma. Professor McLaurin was admitted to the university, but said that he was forced to sit in an anteroom adjoining the regular classroom. The university has since abandoned this practice for one of segregation in the same room. McLaurin added that he was not permitted to sit wherever he wished in the library but was restricted to a separate table in the balcony as well as to a separate table in the students' cafeteria.

In the second case, another Negro, Herman M. Sweatt, was refused admission to the University of Texas Law School at Austin, but was told that he might attend a newly established law school at the Texas State University for Negroes at Houston. Here, too, the "separate but equal" doctrine has been attacked as depriving Mr. Sweatt of the same quality of education as the white students are receiving.

The third suit, that of Elmer H. Henderson, challenged the laws which forced him to sit in a portion of a Southern Railway dining car curtained off from white passengers.

That the basic issues involved have attracted widespread interest is indicated by the fact that several dozen briefs have been filed with the court in the three cases, including thirteen in Mr. Sweatt's case alone.

Briefs characterizing "separate but equal" facilities as a sham have been presented by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the American Veterans Committee, the Congress of Industrial Organizations, the American Jewish Congress, the National Lawyers Guild and various others, including 188 eminent law professors.

Opposing statements have come from the states of Texas and Oklahoma. They have been supported by Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

In the Henderson case, Representative Sam Hobbs of Alabama submitted a brief for himself and some of his colleagues. This attacked a Federal policy statement made by Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman, that the "separate but equal" doctrine was fallacious. It is necessary, insisted Mr. Hobbs, that the Department of Justice support the Interstate Commerce Commission, which will not act against a railroad as long as it provides equal facilities for both races.

Argument in these cases comes at a time when the question of racial segregation is attracting considerable attention in the nation. It is particularly acute in Washington. Only recently a large white school there was turned over for the use of Negro pupils. A theatre has been opened on a non-segregated basis, and three Negroes are testing in court a restaurant's right to refuse them admission.

DEAR EDITOR:

On reading the article "Our Purple-White History" in the Dear Editor Column of the April 13, 1950 issue, I noted that the Wisteria Pageant was added to our tradition when the Junior College became the University of Bridgeport.

I took part in the Wisteria Pageant presented in 1940 which was the story of the "Sleeping Beauty." In those days we were just the Junior College of Connecticut, so it seems that this phase of our tradition dates back farther than the article states.

Sincerely,
DONALD S. MARQUARD

EDITOR'S NOTE:

In the April 13 issue, the SCRIBE erroneously printed that the annual Wisteria pageant became a part of our tradition when the Junior College became the University of Bridgeport. Upon closer research in this matter we found that the pageant along with the Wisteria Coronation began in 1938.

Foneyville Follies

I understand that a portion of Dr. Alfredo Kraessel's students became quite concerned when they read the Scribe article stating that Dr. Kraessel might have to return to Peru very shortly. To clarify this point; 1) Senator McMahon introduced a bill to lengthen his stay; 2) Yes, he will be with us to the end of the semester; 3) Stop writing to Peru and sending transcripts; 4) Even if he did have to go back he was going to establish a "Dr. Kraessel's Correspondence School for Incomplete Seniors."

To some of our more sociable UB males the only definition of "straight" is "without a chaser."

Latch on to your ducat for the Alpha Gamma Phi dance at Glorieta Manor this Friday eve. For two bucks you get atmosphere, entertainment, good music, and for a finale Mal Cohen and Mario Raccassi will do their version of "Dorm Life—1946 to 1950" or "We Knew It Couldn't Last."

The widely heralded UB humor mag, the "Clown" has finally made its appearance upon UB's scene and the general opinion of you students who are the real judges seems to be that it was a fine piece of rib-tickling work. It's difficult to comprehend the amount of back-breaking effort and mental strain that goes into producing a self supporting initial issue of this type and that is why the staff is tremendously happy and proud over the students' reception of this first try. Many congratulations to Rol Blais, Art Eichorn, Wirt Griggs, Bobbie Sage, and all the other members of the hard-working staff and a special pat on the back to Fred Lionetti whose bloodhound tactics in ferreting out advertising helped indispensably to make the mag a success.

Overheard at the Beta Gamma dance at the Housatonic Lodge last Friday. He: "Well, baby, what's the good word?" She: "No."

The "Greaseball" sponsored by our UB engineers was acclaimed a success by all who attended and we hope the boys can make it an annual affair. Informality was the keynote of the dance and anyone who lamped Walt Casey's luscious little gal friend, Lil Papalia, would certainly agree that when a girl's got it even dungarees can't hide it.

Hey Seniors! the deadline is fast approaching for tickets to the Senior Prom at the Patterson Club and the Senior Banquet at Lenny's Rainbow Room so check with the bookstore at Fairfield Campus and the Stables at Seaside and get your dough in as soon as convenient. It's your last chance to get together with your fellow Seniors so let's go for "auld lang syne."

5. What if I go home practically every weekend?

It is still quite likely that you will be attending at least one or possibly two events in each area. Also you will receive a $4.00 yearbook. All in all you will probably get your money's worth. The plan is really an inducement to stay at the university on a weekend now and then to enjoy some very worthwhile activities as well as to contribute to school spirit in general.

6. Why should I purchase the ticket?—my boyfriend takes me to everything.

Most women frankly acknowledge that they have a serious regard for the amount of money it costs their boyfriends to take them to various activities. They even admit to "helping out" occasionally. This fact leads us to believe that most women in the "steady" category will welcome this opportunity to make things easier all the way around. Result: more dates and increased attendance at all our activities.

Stuart Churchill, young tenor with Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, was the special guest of the social evening given by the music department faculty Tuesday night in Fones Lecture Hall to acquaint members of the administration and faculty with the music department and music students. Mr. Churchill, famous for his rendition of Ave Maria, put himself through the University of Michigan by singing for his meals in a restaurant. In the Spring of 1929 Fred Waring heard him sing and offered him a position after graduation. He joined the Pennsylvanians in July of 1929.

The United States Air Force in discharging its grave responsibilities for the air defense of our country, has designated the University as one of a select group of institutions of higher learning to assist in raising the scholastic level of the service to an unprecedented high and the maintaining of close liaison with educational institutions. Mr. Anthony Jevarjian, a first lieutenant in the reserves, has been appointed Educational liaison officer. The Air Force is not interested in soliciting applicants in a chosen field, nor would students be encouraged to leave school prior to receiving a degree. Information can be supplied and Officers Candidate examinations can be facilitated by such a representative here on campus. Information will be issued shortly regarding opportunities in the Air Force.

Foreign Students of the University have been invited to the home of Mrs. Gayland Russel of Southport, Connecticut, this Saturday (April 29) at 6:00 p.m. for a covered-dish supper and musicale. Those who want to attend this social should contact Mr. Brewer in Howland Hall. The Foreign students are also invited to an All-Nations dance party to be given by the International Institute at the YWCA on May 3. The dance, with folk dancing by Eddie Nadel, will be strictly informal. Tickets can be obtained in Mr. Brewer's office.

Awards and prizes for outstanding work in the sociology field were presented Wednesday evening at the annual Sociology Colloquium Dinner in the Pickwick Restaurant on Pembroke Street. Bud Harris received the award for the student who did the most for the Colloquium; Mrs. Christine Citran, head of the beauty culture department at the Bullard Haven Technical School, received the award for the person in the community who did the most for the Colloquium; and Dean Ropp received a special Sociology Colloquium award. Members of the committee for the affair were: Thora Carr, Roslin Rappoport, Theresa Brannely, and Frieda Guri.

The Sadie Hawkin's Day committee reports that the affair, the first all-student managed function, was a tremendous success and the profits totaled $260.00. The committee headed by Sid Litwak gives special thanks to Stratford Hall for their financial assistance and Miss Carolyn Buck and Miss Clare Hatch for their able assistance as advisors. Stratford Hall was awarded an

Capt. Paul Buskey, Middlebury, '38 Air Intelligence, U.S. Air Force

An excellent student at Middlebury College, Vermont, Paul found time to win the coveted All Sports Trophy in his senior year. He graduated in June, 1938.

He then joined a coated paper mill firm as research and control man. Pearl Harbor changed all that—Paul went to Maxwell Field to begin Aviation Cadet training.

An outstanding Cadet, 2nd Lt. Paul Buskey was held over as an instructor after graduation. Then he was assigned as a pilot in the Air Transport Command.

His big plane education was topped with 23 missions over the far-famed "Hump," flying C-54 transports. After V-J Day, he stayed on in the Far East until March of 1948—specializing in Air Intelligence.

Back home, after accepting a Regular Air Force Commission, Captain Buskey went to Air Tactical school, was there rated an outstanding student, and won assignment to Command and Staff school.

Today, Captain Buskey is an Air Intelligence Officer on MATS Headquarters Staff at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington, D. C. He looks forward to a rewarding future in the U. S. Air Force.

Bridgeport Golfers Win Third Straight Match

The University of Bridgeport golf squad continued to remain undefeated last Monday when they downed highly touted Springfield College, 5½ to 3½. Last Friday the UB linksmen won their second straight match of the year by beating Fairleigh Dickinson 10½ to 1½.

In the singles matches Ernie Boros and Paul Faco evened up, while Dud Savard beat Springfield's Don Conway 7 and 6. The other two singles events that were copped for UB were taken by Leon Honcharik 3 and 2, and Dick Miller 5 and 4.

In the best ball competition, Boros and Savard came through with a 4 and 2 count, and Honcharik and Miller won, 5 and 3. Springfield's Ross and Girvin beat Lengyel and Baldwin 1 up to take the other doubles match.

UB's Three Game Win Streak Broken By Classy Terriers

by Bill Chambault, Jr.

UB's baseball honeymoon which began against Hillyer and continued on in the upset win over the Bees, came to an abrupt end Monday afternoon when the Arnold Terriers crushed the Knights, 22-0.

In all fairness to the UB's, the contest (?) played throughout a steady cold drizzle should never have started. However, even taking that into consideration, it was a very disgraceful exhibition.

Herb Lambert, UB starter and loser never had a chance as his mates supported or rather collapsed behind him, erring seven times in a wild first inning in which Arnold tallied five times.

After that opening splurge, it was just a matter of how many runs Arnold could score before the umps decided to halt the one-sided track-meet. They finally did call play in the seventh, but not before the Terriers had 22 runs, 10 of them coming across in an uproarious sixth.

Contrasted to this holocaust, was the surprise 4-1 triumph scored over the Bridgeport Bees. Inspired by the truly beautiful pitching job of Lefty George Brown who five-hit the Bees while fanning seven, the Knights capitalized on two errors for their winning markers in the sixth.

SINCE HE STARTED USING VITALIS!

You can't miss with the misses—if you use your head—and "Live-Action" Vitalis care. Pitch into that mop of yours with the famous "60-Second Workout." 50 seconds' scalp massage (feel the difference!)... 10 seconds to comb (and will the gals see the difference!). You'll look neat and natural. Bye-bye loose, flaky dandruff and dryness, too. So make your play with the help of Vitalis—get it at any drug store or barber shop.

Worley Group to Present Music Program May 2nd

Tickets for the first appearance of the University of Bridgeport sixty-piece Concert Band and the forty-voice Men's Glee Club can now be obtained in the Seaside Snack Bar, and from members of both organizations.

Indications are that this concert will be an eye-opener for the student body, and that those unable to attend will wish they had. For several months the Band and Glee Club have been rehearsing the music that will be heard in the concert Tuesday night.

Growing from a membership of seven to forty club members in eight weeks, the Glee Club promises much enjoyment. Among the songs this group will sing will be: "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes," "Brothers, Sing On," "Away to Rio," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Old Man Noah," and others.

The Concert Band will feature such music as the melodies from "Snow White and Seven Dwarfs" and the "Mississippi Suite." As well as these outstanding numbers, The Grieg Piano Concerto will be played and will feature Barbara Voorhees, U. B. Freshman, as soloist. Officers of the Band are: Phil Rockefeller, President; Ralph Shaefer, Business Manager; Frank Kraynick, Librarian; Anthony Truglia, Student Conductor; and Marjorie Cisero, Head Drum Major. John C. Worley is Director of both organizations.

Officers of the Glee Club are: Frank Church, President, and Bob Nichols, Business Manager. Accompanists are Anthony Truglia and Edward Leach.

Sigma Phi Alpha Wins Top Prize At Circus Dance

Sigma Phi Alpha's penny pitching booth won first prize for making the most money at the annual all-University Circus Dance held March 31 at the Connecticut State Armory.

Alpha Delta Omega won first prize for the best looking booth at the Circus Dance. Their ring toss game attracted many, and really, deserved the award. In second place was the Ball and Chain Club with its dart and balloon game. Linden Hall's lavatory decorations won first and Milford Hall's marriage booth won second in the most original booth category.

Honorable mentions go to Dental Hygiene Group (ring toss), best looking; Alpha Phi Omega (picture booth), initiative; and Alpha Gamma Phi (poker darts), best all round booth.

Twenty-one campus organizations in all took part in the dance, each sponsoring a circus booth or concession on the midway on the Armory floor. Those participating were — Trumbull Hall, weight lifting; Wistaria Hall, water pistols and candles; Spanish Club, fortune telling; Junior Class, baseball; Delta Epsilon Beta, checking; Pi Omega Chi, ice cream; Seaside Hall, cotton candy; UB Chorus, music guessing; Waldemere Hall, bean guessing; Stratford Hall, fortune telling; Theta Sigma and Senior Class, suction darts, and Red Cross, shooting gallery.

Entertainment was provided by the Sime Neary School of Dancing and the Hungry Seven.

The following is a comparison of the financial outcome of this year's dance with that of last year's.
